Neighborhood Park Shapes Up

JAMES E. PELLAND graded the mini-park over the weekend. Plan for the park were drawn by Jacobson/Wall & Partners as a public service to the Model Neighborhood.

THE MINI-PARK at 25th and Sheridan began to look like a park this weekend as the property was graded.

The Model Cities Mini-Park at 25th and Sheridan, began to take shape over the weekend as the land was cleared and graded.

Jacobson/Wall & Partners Architects have drawn plans for the park as a public service to the Model Neighborhood and Model Cities. They did not charge anything for their services.

Plans for the park include open space with benches surrounded by trees. Sidewalks will wander through the park.

James E. Pelland began the grading over the weekend. Several trees have been left standing of the property ot retain the natural beauty of the lot. The land has been contoured, and all the brush and trash has been removed.

Model Cities funds for the park have been exhausted, so any further development of the property will require additional funding. The original plan included further development by the Neighborhood Development Program, but that program will not have the funds to develop the land.

Funds for developing the park may be available from a State Grant or from Model Cities reprogramming funds.

Dear Tac-Vac

by: Ted Jefferson

Dear TAC VAC:

Q--I have just been released from active duty and plan to enroll in college under the GI Bill for the spring semester. What will be the procedure to apply for the advance education allowance payment?

A--VA application forms are being revised to include an application for advance payment. Until they are available, VA will accept any written communication which shows: (1) that the school has accepted you, (2) you have notified the school you intend to enroll, (3) the beginning and ending dates of the enrollment period (term, quarter, semester, school year or for the entire program) and (4) the number of credit or clock hours or the number of high school credits for which you will enroll.

Q--Is the amount deducted from military retired pay for participation in the Survivor Benefit Program subject to federal income taxation?

A--No.

Q--I entered active service last month. Even though hostilities ended officially in Vietnam last January, am I considered a Vietnam Era vet for GI Bill and other VA Benefits?

A--Yes. Offical end of the war will be set by President proclamation or act of Congress. Those who enter active services before that date will be eligible for GI Bill and other veteran benefits.

Address all questions concerning veterans to: Tacoma Veterans Action Center, 1301 South "K" Street, Tacoma, Washington 98405

Handicapped help get the job done at Fort Lewis

William Price, a meat cutter worker at the commissary, is one of approximately 250 Fort Lewis and Madigan Army Medical Center employees sharing a special interest in National Employ the Handicapped Week being observed this week.

The medically retired veteran of 23 years service—a sergeant first class—was disabled in 1967 while serving in Vietnam.

Price, an operations sergeant and drill instructor, studied meat cutting through the Project Transition program at Fort Hood, Texas, before coming here.

Robert Fulton, coordinator for selective placement of the handicapped, says the hiring of Price shows the government's very real concern for employing both Vietnam veterans and handicapped individuals.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By G.M. Batie

Washington Fish Stew Gumbo

2 lbs. rock cod, ling cod, ocean perch, salmon, halibut, or any other firm fish, fresh or frozen:
1½ cups sliced celery
½ cup chopped onions
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup margarine
1 large can tomatoes
1-8oz. can tomatoe sauce
2 tsp. salt
½ tsp. paprika
½ tsp. chili powder
¼ tsp. pepper
1 package (7oz.) spaghetti uncooked
2 cups boiling water
1 package frozen okra

Cut 2 lbs. of fish of your choice into 1" chunks. Cook celery, onions, garlic and okra in margarine in large heavy pan until tender. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce and seasonings. Simmer, cover, cook slowly for 20 min. Add cooked spaghetti and boiling water; stir and cover pan. Cook slowly about 10 min. or until spaghetti is almost tender, add fish and cook 10 min. longer. Makes 6 servings.

Dona Gilman

Dona Gilman, candidate for Port Commissioner has issued the following statement in support of her candidacy:

"I am running for Port Commissioner because the ports will play a major role in the continuing development of Pierce County. I have no "vested interest" in the port; nor am I supported by any private or political interests. I do have a concerned interest, however, in our community's future in all areas...jobs, economic stability, equal opportunities, land use, environmental concerns, and industrial base."

"I have studied Puget Sound Ports and I do understand the conflicts of interests that do arise in planning for the future. The Port of Tacoma is a natural deepwater port and the need to direct its growth for the benefit of all the community is of paramount importance. We need job producing industries that require permanent employment of large numbers of people. I believe the Port Authority should contract and lease only to those businesses that have Affirmative Action programs in effect. I believe the Port Commissioners should make it a policy to deal only with businesses that have ongoing Affirmative Action programs. And I believe that all contracts should be let on bid to the public for competitive negotiation."

"The 1956 Port Development Plan should be updated. Piecemeal decisions being made 17 years later are not good enough for a West Coast superport. The proposed grain terminal is already obsolete due to lack of adequate planning. Marina space and small boat facilities must be provided for the public. Port Authority meetings should be held on a regular basis at a time most convenient to most people so that public concerns can be heard and considered."

"I have been active for many years in community organizations and on commissions at the state and regional level. I am president of Tillicum Suppliers Inc., an auto supply warehouse, and have both a business and professional background. With my experience in business and on policy making boards I will serve as your representative on the Port Commission with attitudes and abilities that are not presently represented. I would appreciate your vote, your questions and your suggestions."

Voter Project Set In 9 Cities

The second phase of the National Urban League's Voter Education Project has been established in nine cities.

The new project cities are Albany, N. Y.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Springfield, Mass.; Lexington, Ky.; Louisville, Ky.; Seattle, Wash.; Tacoma, Wash.; and Portland, Oregon. The ninth city is Indianapolis, Ind., which was also included in phase one.

In its first phase last fall, the project was operative in ten cities, registering over 50,000 voters, thereby increasing black registration by an average of 13 percent in each of the cities.

The National Urban League moved into voter education last year after a study by its Research Department disclosed that in some northern and midwestern cities black voter registration ran as low as 20 to 30 percent of the eligibles.

The cities selected for the original project were Stamford, Conn., Flint, Mich.; Battle Creek, Mich.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Springfield, Ill.; Sacramento, Calif.; New Brunswick, N. J.; Dayton, Ohio and Indianapolis, Ind.

Not only were voter rolls increased appreciably, but the actual black turnout on election day in the ten cities averaged 68 percent as compared to a nation-wide total of 54.5 percent.

Lessons learned from the ten cities will be utilized in the second phase of the project. The project, which has received the endorsement of both the Democratic and Republican national parties will continue to be nonpartisan.

To date, the project has been funded in the amount of $1,000,000 over a two-year period. Funds were granted by the following sources: the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the Field Foundation, the Ford Foundation, the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation, the New World Foundation, the Taconic Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation and the Voter Registration Fund.

The project also offers a number of other services, in addition to voter registration. These include citizenship education, research and evaluation of election participation, special programs for black youth and leadership training programs.

Letter To The Editor

The Black and the Poor had better be hip to what's going on in the Port of Tacoma. That's where the jobs come from, and that's where the power resides. The fact that you never hear anything about the Port Commission should lead you to suspect there is some reason for them keeping such a low profile.

That reason is they've got their own thing going for them. They've got their own ideas how the the whole show will be run, and they're not going out of their way to have the people meddling in "business matters."

That scene could change very easily. The people can get to the nearest voting booth and call a few shots of their own. With twelve candidates for this important and powerful office, the vote will be so split that your choice (and there is a choice) has as much chance as anyone.

One vote could decide this race, and the shape politics is in, it's doubtful that a lot of people will even vote. All the more reason to determine who you want in office and vote them in.

This town belongs to all of us. Some people never seem to remember that, but their game is so shaky that things could just start happening right for a change!

Keeper of the Keys

by Andre Young'

The State Penitentiary at Walla Walla has on on an average of 10-14 deaths each year, which can be attributed to murders, suicides, overdoses of narcotics; et cetera.

Because so many economically and otherwise disadvantaged persons are unabately being reduced to peonage and involuntary servitude, I am submitting the following advise from the American Civil Liberties Union.

How to deal with an arrest if you are questioned by a policeman:

1. You can remain silent, you do not have to answer any questions other than you name and address.

2. Ask if you are under arrest. If so, you have the right to know the charge against you. If no, you should be free to leave. However, never run away from a policeman.

3. Do not physically resist arrest. If the cop wants to search you, make it clear that you do not agree to the search. If searched, do not resist.

If You Are Arrested Or Held

1. Never run away or physically resist arrest.

2. You have the right to remain silent; use it. Tell the policeman nothing except your name and address. Don't try to give an explanation or try to excuse your conduct.

3. If the police continues questioning you, ask to see a lawyer immediately. If you have been charged with a felony and cannot afford a lawyer you have the right to free legal services. Do not talk to officials unless your lawyer is present.

4. Whether or not the police have a warrant, you can protect your right against unlawful search by making it clear that you do not agree to a search, however, if the police persist....don't physically impede them.

5. If you are booked, sometimes you can be released without bail or have the bail reduced--ask the Judge about this. You have the right to go into Court the next Court day after you have been charged.

6. Don't make any decisions in your case until you have talked to a lawyer.

Agnew Resignation

By Parren J. Mitchell
(D-7th District-Maryland)
U.S. House of Representatives

It is always difficult to see the highest offices in this land demeaned by acts of wrongdoing

Certainly this is true with the Agnew Case.

In a way, I feel very vindicated because I was among the few Democrats in the House of Representatives who insisted that the former Vice President should be brought before the House as a part of our special inquiry into charges of misconduct and wrongdoings.

The House will not now have an opportunity to conduct such an inquiry because of the resignation.

Above and beyond that, the plea of nolocontendere to a lesser charge prevents us and the Courts from examining the whole host of other charges leveled against the former Vice President.

Many would suspect that I would be delighted by the resignation.

However, I must take the position that we are suddenly thrust into another grave constitutional-political crisis which may have serious implications for black Americans.

Looming equally large in my mind is the overriding question, "Can black Americans reasonably expect equity, justice, and decency from an administration so riddled with corruption, racism, and wickedness?"

As of now I can only answer that question in the negative.

US ARMY RECRUITING SERVICE

If you've been looking for a way to get to Europe, here's something you'll want to know. The U.S. Army has openings for young men and women in Europe. The army will guarantee you your choice of training, plus at least 16 months in Europe. You'll be paid $326.10 a month to start -- plus housing, meals and medical and dental care. And you'll get 30 days paid vacation that you can spend touring the continent, or any way you want. For more details, call PFC Tom Hilton, U.S. Army Europe Information Recruiter. PFC Hilton, is stationed with the 3d Armored Division Frankfurt, Germany, and is here working with the Local Army Recruiters to answer any questions about Europe, ... Phone 472-9665 or by visiting, ...2000 Tacoma Mall Office Building Suite 101

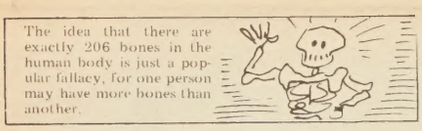
The current army summer women's uniform may be replaced next summer by one of three styles being tested across the country.

Five hundred army women now wearing the three new styles will recommend on of the new uniforms to the army uniform board for adoption through-out the Army. The test is aimed at developing an attractive wash-and-wear summer unifrom that is both durable and comfortable.

One of the proposed styles is a three-piece ensemble consisting of a jumper, shirt and jacket. The jumper has a roll collar and modified princess lines with a zip-up closure stopping at the neck seam. The shirt may be worn in short or long sleeve versions, in white or pale green solid colors, and has a front zipper closure with neckband forming an ascot. The optional jacket is a long-sleeve cardigan with button front and modified princess lines.

The second design is a short sleeve dress with an optional long-sleeve cardigan jacket. The dress has a roll collar, modified princess lines, back zipper closure and shoulder loops. The jacket has a button fromt and shoulder loops.

The third version is a two piece outfit consisting of a short-sleeve over blouse which may be worn in place of the jacket. All three uniforms were designed by a California fashion designer.



The idea that there are exactly 206 bones in the human body is just a popular fallacy, for one person may have more bones than another.

LIONS CLUB INITIATED SCHOOL FUND

The Downtown Tacoma Lions Club Thursday Oct. 18, initiated a fund for needy students at the L.H. Bates Vocational-Technical Institute in memory of the late Edward M. Young, who was acting administrative director of vocational education for Tacoma schools, at the time of his death.

Seymour Johnson, president of the club, and John Ostlund, first vice-Pres., presented a check for $200 to the Institute's scholarship and loan fund. Mr. Young was a lifetime member of the club.

Milton S. Rouse, acting administrative director of the Institute, accepted the check for the institute students in ceremonies Thursday afternoon.

Rouse said students needing loans or grants to complete their schooling receive them from the fund which is administered through the Institute's student body organization.

Triage...Madigan's migraine

Like the patients it serves, Madigan Army Medical Center also experiences discomfort and anguish in providing proper care for those in need of medical treatment.

Madigan's current migraine is the Center's Triage Clinic and the Center's Commander wishes the cure were as easy as the diagnosis, "It's simply a problem of resources and workload." Brig Gen William H. Meroney was referring to the number of qualified personnel available to provide quality care for the some 200 patients who daily come to the clinic for aid.

Gen Meroney related three alternatives to staff members to resolve the crowded clinic problem, "We must increase the work force, utilize new techniques to increase efficiency or decrease the patient load."

The General pointed out that "We have been struggling to care for all our beneficiaries in all areas of the Center, but if the resources are not adequate, we will not sacrifice the quality of care in the interest of numbers treated. It would be most unfortunate for the members of the community if we were forced to limit our services." The General remains optimistic and said that every means would be employed to continue to provide for all those eligible for care and significantly decrease the waiting time in the Triage Clinic.

The clinic waiting time is not a new problem to Madigan officials, but with continuing physician shortages the waiting time has steadily increased. To combat this inconvenience different methods have been employed by the clinic chief such as utilizing specially trained nurses for certain minor illnesses to maximize the physician's time for direct patient treatment. This innovation has been very successful and well accepted by most of the individuals seeking treatment.

There is the occasional Triage visitor who does little to uplift the morale of a dedicated and competent staff member with "I didn't come here to see a stupid nurse —I want to see a doctor." Perhaps she is the same lady who became irate because a Triage nurse didn't consider her dandruff serious enough to give her an emergency referral to the Dermatology Clinic.

While the problem is one the hospital staff will have to resolve, Triage eligibles can also help.

"Visiting the clinic during the week from 8 a.m. to 4:40 p.m. when possible," Department of Clinic Chief William H. McIlroy said, "would indeed help, and also if they realize we are fully aware of the long waiting period and are doing our best to reduce the waiting time."

From the Pen of James Boden (age 12)

If you are presently unemployed and are looking for gainful employment perhaps you belong in politics. There have been a number of job openings since the beginning of the Watergate investigations. It seems likely that with the events of the past few days, since the firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox and Attorney General Richardson, and the resignation of the Assistant Attorney General William P. Ruckelshaus, there will be more before it is over. This action by the President would seem a direct defiance of the American judicial system, and appears to leave President Nixon with no other alternative than to resign or face impeachment proceedings.

Fitzgerald Beaver EDITOR & PUBLISHER

The present Middle East conflict is fraught with many dangers, not the least of which is its potential for further dividing an America already wearied by Vietnam and Watergate. We are seriously threatened, not only with the spectre of being drawn into another bloody military action overseas, but with outrages and atrocities within our borders.

Understandably, the American people take intense interest and strong personal positions on happenings abroad. For, most of us have blood ties to Europe, Africa and the Orient. We would be less than human if we did not, as private people, desire to help them.

But it is certainly time to remind ourselves that compassion and conflict are not synonymous, and that a decent respect for the opinions of our fellow citizens is a basic American precept. Hopefully, we will confine our activity to individual support of whichever group we choose, in whatever manner we choose, avoiding the pitfall of confrontation here at home. Our sympathies and our generosities should be to those victimized by the rage of war. But our allegiance belongs to America.

Triage moves to Ward 31

During this cold season, Madigan is doing some decongesting of its own. In anticipation of the upcoming influx of upper respiratory infection patients and a planned remodeling of the Triage Clinic's facilities, Triage moved its operations to Ward 31, Ramp 5, Oct. 1.

Col William McIlroy, chief of the Department of Clinics and Community Health Care Services, said that plans for remodeling the Triage area have been drawn and approved, and fund approval for the construction is currently being awaited. The new facilities will offer nearly twice as much examination space for Triage physicians, and will feature a new patient waiting room with ready access to the Emergency Room.

Visitors to the Ward 31 location will find that an additional physician will be on duty in the morning and afternoon, which should reduce waiting time for Triage visitors.

"We hope to be back in our old Ramp 6 location in about six months. In the meantime, we hope Triage patients will experience no difficulty in finding us on Ward 31," concluded Col. McIlroy.

WOMEN on Wheels

HELPFUL SAFETY TIPS

by Elizabeth Stimley
Plymouth Safety Writer

UNDERSTANDING YOUR CAR

Women are a strong force in traffic safety, and this "woman power" is gathering strength every day.

Many women want to be able to "talk car" and understand what a mechanic means when he recommends costly repairs.

The days of the innocent gal motorist who places her trust in any mechanic to take care of her car are numbered.

It's enlightening to see many new car dealers across the country making a strong contribution to this new interest by women. At a dealership, I attended a course for "women only" in auto mechanics.

The course was structured to give us a good working knowledge of what makes a car go, some symptoms that warn of an impending failure, how to maintain the vehicle and how to tell when certain repairs are necessary.

Basically, we learned what makes a car tick, or more importantly, stop ticking. Not only did we learn a lot, we had fun too. I'd recommend a course like this to any woman.

Women on wheels have come a long way since Genevra Delpine Mudge became the first woman driver in New York in 1898, piloting an electric car. But really, we've just begun.

YOUNG GIRL CAPTURES RAPIST
While waiting for a bus, a young attractive girl was grabbed from behind and dragged into an alley. As her assailant tried to rip her dress off, she fired one burst at his face. Instantly he let her go and staggered around blindly, coughing and gasping. He later confessed to raping over a dozen women in the area. This girl and possibly others were saved from a vicious sexual attack.

PREVENT PROWLERS, BURGLARS FROM FORCING ENTRY TO YOUR HOME!
When you answer the door to strangers, keep SHERIFF .50 in your hand. Make your home or apartment safer for you and your family.

ASSAULT & ROBBERY PREVENTED
The St. Louis Globe Democrat reports: While an elderly insurance collector was making his rounds, he was jumped by a knife wielding attacker who tried to rob him. The insurance man completely disarmed and disabled his attacker with one spray that had his attacker coughing and gasping.

THOMAS KENNEDY

PDC appoints director

The Portland Development Commission announced recently the appointment of Mr. Thomas Kennedy, 36, as the Commission's new Director of Community Services. Kennedy's appointment fills a vacancy created in April by the resignation of Hazel G. Hays who accepted a position in private industry.

Prior to his appointment, Kennedy was acting as Deputy Director for External Affairs with the Washington State Human Rights Commission in Seattle. He has also worked as Affirmative Action Officer, Minority Group Specialist and Eastern Washington Manager with the Human Rights Commission. Prior to his employment with the State of Washington, Kennedy served as Human Rights Consultant to the President of Whitworth College, and for 13 years was employed by the Boeing Company. He attended the University of Washington.

Kennedy has been active in the Seattle Model Cities Program, having served as Chairman of the Model Cities Physical Planning, Environment and Housing Task Force and as a member of the Model Cities Advisory Council. He is a member of the NAACP, and the Prince Hall Grand Lodge Masons.

Kennedy assumed his position with the Development Commission on September 1.

HAPPY AND SAFE HALLOWEEN TO EACH OF YOU !!

A SMALL COUNTRY church was having money problems. Yet at a meeting of the deacons it was proposed to give the pastor a long overdue increase in salary. The preacher, however, opposed the idea.

"Brothers," he said, "I don't want you to raise my salary anymore. I'm having too much trouble raising what you are already paying me."

After serving one year as a Metropolitan Park District commissioner, I feel I have become acquainted with the past and present programs and have formulated definite concerns about the future.

One of the major inadequacies is the lack of community involvement. More input and participation are needed to involve the people in decisions about activities in and directions for their local parks.

Another issue of concern is balancing the MPD's program between "lifetime sports" and "organized sports." With additional funding I feel this can be accomplished and I am planning on working for such funds.

Northwest Trek is an example of one of the "lifetime" enjoyment areas that should be over seen by MPD on a controlling agency capacity. We have a rich natural environment from the virgin forest stand at Point Defiance to marine shorelands at Titlow Beach which should be conserved.

Organized sports have been an integral part of the MPD policy and many fine programs are being offered. I will work to better familiarize the public with these activities.

The future can hold a good urban park system for Tacoma. With fuller expression of citizen view points, preserving and improving existing parks and balancing the program, such a park system will be a reality.

Season of Accessories

SEASON OF ACCESSORIES

Autumn is the time of warm sun and glowing color. It's a time to put together a new wardrobe, too. And this year, put-together is the right word for it. This is the season when accessories make the look--those extra touches that add life to an outfit and let you face the world in style.

No other single accessory has been as popular year-round as sunglasses are today. They add a contrasting note that makes them the most important plus in every fashion-conscious woman's wardrobe.

But besides being a fashion accessory, the sunglasses today's woman selects must also help her see safely and comfortably. Shown here, Solo, a Cool-Ray Polaroid sunglass with lightweight metal frames, sleekly curving lines and the famous Polaroid lens with an invisible glare barrier for maximum protection and comfort.

To face every season with style, choose sunglasses that combine smart styling with sturdy function.

NEIGHBORS

By Mrs. V.C. Edwards

This time of year shatters even the best of us and this writer is none fro the worst. My stomach can setrle into its normal place now that the world series is over.

Although I chose the wrong team and must take a friend out to dinner at a place of her choice, I still feel great. Great, because a certain favorite pitcher (?????) was "knocked out" in each game that he was chosen as the starting pitcher. I have a certain something for the Mets. After I learned that they were last in their division about August 31, I really united behind them. They not only won, but also defeated the Cincinnati Reds handsomely for the right to play the Oakland A's for the World Championship.

My husband advised me not to let my sentiments cause me to make poor judgements (or let my sentiments get mixed up with my money) Isn't that just like a man?

I think the Mets played well and didn't really let me down. I wanted them to win so badly for Willie Mays' sake as you know this is his last season as a player. Didn't it sadden you when he fell chasing a ball in the sun that went for a two-base error. As the announcer commented that during his earlier day he would have put it in his hip pocket!

There was one consolation when my husband told me that some of the opposing players made the same type of errors during the games and Willies' replacement misjudged a ball hit at him and it got by him for a hit and a two base error.

When the seventh and final game was played ed I couldn't stand to watch. The scores were relayed to me by my friend via telephone or my husband who was down stairs watching the game on T.V.

Oh, well--anyone for football, hockey, basketball, soccer, etc?

Toastmistress Founders Day

Former members have been invited to join with Toastmistress Clubs through the month of October to mark the celebration of Founder's Day. The International Toastmistress organization was originated in Oct. 1938, under the guidance of Ernestine White and with sponsorship of the Toastmaster Clubs, with which it is affiliated. The goals spelled out by Mrs. White ;were to improve communication skills and develop leadership qualities in women, with all to be acomplished in a friendly atmosphere where speech techniques, oral expression of thoughts and the art of critical listening were stressed.

There are more than 1100 clubs throughout the world. North America is divided into 16 regions of which this area, the Pacific Northwest Region, is one. Regions then are divided into councils, one of which, Council Three, includes 6 clubs in Thurston and Pierce Counties.

All interested women are welcome to attend the club of their choice. Additional information on meeting times and places is available from the Pacific Northwest Region Extension Assistant, Gladys Miller (588 3545); N. Bettye Clanton, Council #3 Chairman (582 2561); Nita Leiser, Membership (475 3972).

The central issue upon which the Port of Tacoma race must be decided is openness.

The Port of Tacoma has enormous authority for industrial development in our community. The Port has used that authority loosely. Citizens have not been involved or informed in making policy that daily effects their lives and welfare.

As in all government, administrative duties can and should be accomplished by staff and the commission. But policy decisions (for example, seeking certain types of industry) is too important to be left to officials. The public must be involved.

The issue of secrecy must not be clouded in this campaign. The public is not well-served by secrecy in the policy areas. That fact has been proven over and over again in all levels of government.

Citizens are ill-informed about what really occurs in our Port area. This is dangerous for three reasons:

1. Effects of Port development linger for dozens of years after decisions are made and after commissioners are retired.
2. Tax dollars are spent without full public knowledge of where they are going.
3. Potential for error and self-serving decisions is great when secret pacts are made with new industries.

My public service record, as Franklin-Pierce school board chairman and as a public arviter, has proven that progress and openness can be achieved together.

The City of Tacoma has proven that a $100 million budget can be administered openly. The Port can and must do the same with a budget half that size.

I believe a Port that belongs to the public must be open to the public. I want you to know about Port decisions before they happen.

If you share my concerns about an open and progressive Port, if you believe in seeking jobs for Tacomans, if you believe fair and open policy-making is the responsibility of a public body, then join me in opening up the Port.

Together, we can build a center for trade that will make all our citizens proud.
